

Product Overview:

This directional microphone is much like the LA-262, but has separate cabling for the attached earphone (portable receiver required). Often used for language interpretation and similar applications, in which the speaker needs to hear a different audio source. Microphone windscreen and headset cushion are replaceable, sold separately (LA-223).

Highlights:

- Use with Listen's LT-700 Portable Transmitter and Listen portable receivers or other audio input
- Two 3.5 mm connectors - one for microphone and one for earphone
- For vocal/speech applications
- Active earpiece
- Superior aural performance
- Adjustable microphone boom
- The transmitter and receiver antenna is built into the microphone/earphone cord
